

Deborah (Debbie) Jones-Norberto
Director/Minister of Music
Emanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church

Debbie joins Emanuel with a long background in sacred music, most recently having been Director of Music/Organist at St. John's Episcopal in South Salem.

She's served churches throughout Westchester, Putnam and Fairfield counties for over 25 years and is an active member of the Westchester AGO and an adjudicator for NYSSMA.

The granddaughter of a Welsh Baptist minister, she grew up in the church (not necessarily always a Baptist though!) She was a voice major/piano minor at The King's College, Briarcliff Manor and then went onto study acting in NYC. Debbie has a long theatrical background as well and works with local school districts as a pit pianist for shows.

In her "other" life, Debbie is a published author, gardener, former clown, jazz singer and more but mostly, a mom of three and soon-to-be grandma this month.

She's excited to hear about your wishes for music—old and new—and how she can help the congregation grow musically. Please reach out and share your ideas and history with her!
